General Program Information

Program Objective

To educate healthcare professionals on current research findings and clinical standards of stroke management and treatment. Provide an opportunity for general discussion and collaboration regarding state stroke care initiatives.

Learning Objectives

At the completion of this program, the learner will be able to:

- Recognize obstructive sleep apnea as a risk factor for ischemic stroke
- Discuss the use of CT angiography in the selection of patients for endovascular stroke therapy.
- Discuss the use of MRI in acute stroke diagnosis.
- Understand the importance of the connection between obstructive sleep apnea and atrial fibrillation.
- Recognize the differences between prior trials of endovascular therapy for ischemic stroke, and the results of more recent trials.
- Discuss advances in the tools for endovascular therapy of ischemic stroke.
- Identify two clinical trials for surgery and minimally invasive management of intracerebral hemorrhage.
- Understand how recent research impacts blood pressure management in spontaneous intracerebral hemorrhage.
- Recognize the advantages and limitations of new or target specific anticoagulants.
- Discuss quality measures to improve the recognition of stroke in the emergency department.
- Identify the recent changes to the list of contraindications to the use of IV TPA.
- Discuss the use of IV TPA beyond three hours of onset.
- Discuss how EMS can be vital in the future of stroke systems of care
